

Allied Pickfords Recognized as Best International Moving Company in Asia Pacific

HONG KONG – (September 7, 2017) – Allied Pickfords, a SIRVA brand, today announced it has been honoured with the International Moving Company of the Year accolade for the fifth consecutive time in the Expatriate Management and Mobility Awards (EMMA), organised by the Forum for Expatriate Management (FEM).

Allied Pickfords was praised by the judging panel for client responsiveness, highlighting the expansive global network and extensive range of end-to-end mobility services as part of the SIRVA family.

“Across all areas, this company has clearly differentiated themselves across the roster,” read the judging comments. “The breadth of coverage and scope of services offered truly supports diverse needs of clients.”

Reflecting on Allied Pickfords’ continued success, Jacob George, president of SIRVA for Asia and Middle East, commented: “We are both humbled and delighted to be commended by a panel of our peers. The highlight of our continued high standard of care to all our clients’ needs acknowledges the continued outstanding effort and commitment of our dedicated expert teams across the region and globally.”

The recognition comes as Allied Pickfords is expanding its footprint in the region, including a new Philippines office in November 2016.

The EMMAs are the global mobility industry’s premier awards, celebrating excellence in mobility worldwide and signifying continued improvement and innovation in the delivery of relocation services.
